Be careful how you trifle with your feet. A shoe which does not hold its shape and fit well until 't is worn out produces corns and bunions. If you are wearing shoes that do not give perfect satisfaction, try the W. L. Douglas shoes. They will hold their shape and give the feet a graceful appearance.

The shoe here pictured has made of Box Calf leather solid oak leather soles; thre rows of silk stitching and fas color hooks and evelets. Also made of the new Soal Goat leather, waterproof. Then two styles of leather are the correct thing.

FE FLINT'S FINE FURNITUR

A Yule-Tide Suggestion.

In a moment of more or less cynical criticism, a recent writer says:-"The luxurious easy chair of fiction, whence the heroine rises, or into which she sinks with perennial grace, is far less common in boudoirs than books." Perhaps this remark will serve, Mr. Lord of the Manor, to suggest a Christmas gift for wife or daughter. We have a veritable regiment of easy chairs of every conceivable design and shape, so that it is entirely unnecessary to sac rifice beauty for comfort or "vice-versa." Some are embellished with soberly ornate carvings, admirably wrought, and others are "all garlanded with carven imageries." A ramble through our floors will reveal all sorts of odd articles "to fit your fancies" for holiday giving, and likewise to fit your pocketbook, as you get factory
